

Wow! What a great first day with the kids!

I'm asking for patience, flexibility, and grace as we navigate virtual learning together. It was not ideal to have P.E first thing this morning but after much time, everyone was able to join Mrs. McConnell and make their way back to our "classroom" afterwards. Moving forwards I will iron out the kinks so that hopefully it won't happen again.

Today, we were able to share a bit about ourselves, which we will continue to do tomorrow and next week :) We went over virtual learning procedures and Zoom expectations. We had recess, and on top of that had some stretch breaks and danced to a Kidz Bop song. We read the book "First Day Jitters" and talked about our feelings coming into the first day of second grade. Students shared ideas about what our class name should be. Please click on the link below and have your student vote, today, on a class name. We also chatted about a scavenger hunt we will do tomorrow morning.

I showed the students how to access our virtual classroom (Zoom) through Seesaw. I attached a video tutorial for you to watch with your student so they can try gaining access to our Zoom call through Seesaw. Please try it today and let me know if there are any issues at all. When students log on tomorrow morning to our class call, please be sure that Seesaw stays open in the background, as we will start working on assignments tomorrow.

Please see yesterday's email for directions on how to gain access to Seesaw for your students, through their student portal.

Thank you SO much and I look forward to working and learning with your students.
